Retirement dinner set to honor Hollowell

A retirement dinner for Joseph D. Hollowell, president of Roncalli high School, will be held at The Atrium on Thursday, March 5.

The first and only president of the school for 25 years, Hollowell announced his retirement last September, effective June 30.

He has held many positions during his 41-year tenure including chemistry teacher, football and baseball coach, dean of students, principal and president.

Joseph D. Hollowell

"The steadfast leadership of Dr. Hollowell has positively impacted tens of thousands of lives," said Roncalli alumnae Gina Kuntz Fleming, superintendent of Catholic Schools for the Archdiocese of Indianapolis. "His deep desire to serve God and His people is evident in all he does. We are most grateful for Dr. Hollowell's service and leadership and thank him for growing Roncalli High School into such a wonderful home where students are educated and formed in the Catholic faith."

Under Hollowell's leadership, the campus has expanded from 24 to 45 acres to meet an enrollment of 1,125 students. He led efforts to raise $35 million for capital improvements, including a chapel, administrative wing, fine arts center, addition of 30 classrooms, an auxiliary gym ("the bubble"), and a new gymnasium plus numerous renovations.

Hollowell and his wife, Diane, have 11 children and 13 grandchildren and are members of Nativity of Our Lord Jesus Christ Parish. He is a graduate of Scecina Memorial High School and Butler University and earned a doctorate in education at Creighton University.

The dinner is open to the public. Doors open at 6 p.m., with dinner at 6:30 p.m. The Atrium is at 3143 Thompson Road.

A portion of each ticket purchased creates a scholarship in honor of Joe and Diane Hollowell.

RSVP and purchase tickets online at www.roncalli.org/hollowell-retirement for $25 per person for dinner and cash bar, or guests may contact Tina Hayes at thayes@roncalli.org or 317-787-8277 ext. 239.

Southside Robotics teams receive new challenge

By Al Stilley
Editor

Three high school teams from the Southside were among 57 statewide robotics teams that learned about the challenges and components for this year's IndianaFIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology) competition.

The University of Indianapolis was one of four sites for the rollout earlier this month of the Infinite Recharge game field and challenge details for the first time.

The Southside teams returning to this year's competition are: CyberBlue234 from Perry Meridian High School; CyberCards1529 from Southport High School and Red Alert1741 from Center Grove High School. Last year, the CyberBlue team won the state championship and qualified for the world finals in Detroit. Teams are given a different robotics challenge each year.

Each team received their kit that included motors, batteries, control system components, construction materials and a mix of additional automation components. With limited instructions, each team will work with experienced mentors from various engineering and technological fields. The teams will have about six weeks to design, build, program and test their robots to meet the 2020 engineering challenge.

Teams compete in Indiana district events that measure the effectiveness of each robot, the power of collaboration and determination and adaptability of students. They immediately began brain-storming and drawing up initial designs for their robots after the presentation at UIndy.

During competitions, two alliances of three teams each compete on a field using balls to shoot and score points. However, the field conditions change, and students must adapt to new challenges on the fly.

This year's challenge has an outer-space theme. In Infinite Recharge, two alliances work to protect FIRST City from asteroids by racing to collect and score power cells for maximum protection.

Perry Meridian High School is host to district competition March 27-28 with the Indiana State Championship at Lafayette Jefferson High School, April 4-5.

Also announced, IndianaFIRST will be rebranded into FIRST Indiana Robotics and partner with the FIRST LEGO League Junior, FIRST Tech Challenge and FIRST Robotics competition programs.

Worldwide, more than 3,600 teams, 91,000 students and nearly 26,000 professional mentors representing 27 countries are participating in the 2020 competition.

FIRST was founded in 1989 to inspire youngsters and teens participation in science and technology and to pursue career STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) careers.

Personal Recollections
By Fred Shonk

A SPECIAL GIFT

For the last couple of weeks, many of my favorite humans have been saying, "Happy New Year" to each other; sort of like me and my friends barking.

My name is Stuart Shonk. I am a registered therapy dog and teamed with my human dad, Fred. I've written articles in the past until my special keyboard that allows me to type using my paws was broken at Ritter's when my frozen custard arrived one day. I was so excited, and I knocked it to the floor. I ordered a new one online a couple of years ago, but it was stolen from our front porch by a couple of roaming dogs.

But now, I have a new keyboard, so I can bring you up to date on some of the things I do with humans.

I'm 15 years old and have been doing our therapy visits for over 11 years at Manor Care and Madison Health Care on Tuesdays and at Beech Grove Central Elementary and South Grove Intermediate schools on Thursdays.

I love going to the health care facilities because we have many friends there among residents, their families and friends and staff.

Students at the schools see us and they always bring books to sit and read to me. I am lucky to have such kind young friends. I just don't like their fall and winter breaks because the schools are closed, and they can't read to me.

I've also been busy helping and providing therapy for my human mom, Lyn. I'm sure lots of you readers know about her getting hurt last July. Her therapy has been a long process, but I'm happy to see her getting better. I'm able to comfort her because we sit together a lot.

A few days before Christmas, I had a big surprise. My human sister, Michelle, and her husband, Ben, stopped by. My sister handed my human dad a package. He unwrapped it, opened it, but then I heard my name mentioned a lot.

None of them were paying attention to me because they kept looking at a new book they took from the unwrapped package.

I soon learned that the hard cover book with illustrations was a fictitious story about a dog named Stuart and his human dad, Fred. The book is titled, "Stuart's Adventures in Petlandia."

I've had it read to me a few times and now I fully understand the word, fiction. In the book, Stuart jumps from an airplane while it is flying over Indianapolis on a return trip from California. I have never jumped from any moving vehicle, especially an airplane.

With the arrival of the New Year, my human dad, Fred, is setting up times when he can read the book to groups at the health care centers and schools that we visit.

We hope to visit you soon.

Happy New Year!!

EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

Flashes and Woodmen rebound against rivals

By Al Stilley
Editor

This is a tale of rivalry games played Friday between Franklin Central and Southport and Jan. 7 between Greenwood and Beech Grove.

FLASHES 71, CARDINALS 63

Vastly improved and up-tempo Franklin Central jumped to a 19-5 first-quarter lead before faltering and coming back to defeat host Southport.

The Flashes shell-shocked the Cardinals with a fullcourt press that forced five turnovers in the game's first five minutes. Once game coach Jordan Dever's Cardinals settled down, they cut the margin to eight points (32-24) by halftime, led by Brevin Jefferson's 11 points in the second quarter.

"Breven got us going," Dever said. "Once our shots started falling, our younger guys gained confidence and we started rolling. Our offense led our defense."

Southport's run resulted in its first lead, 40-38, on freshman AJ Dancler's 3-point shot, a lead they never gave up until FC went up for good 54-52 on a field goal by Mason Gonzalez.

"We came out in the fourth (quarter) ready to play; it was really all mental," Gonzales said. We're a young team, but we are starting to jell."

FC (8-2) has four straight wins with new coach Criss Beyers, the 2019 Indiana All-Star coach. The Flashes start three juniors, one sophomore and a freshman.

Southport started 4-1 but lost five in a row until snapping the skid Saturday at New Palestine, 75-61. Against FC, Jefferson scored a game-high 21 points Friday with 19 points from 6-6 freshman Anthony Ball. Dever starts two seniors and three freshmen.

"We played harder full-length of the game than we had in our last couple of games," Dever said. "This was 32 minutes of hard-played basketball. Our younger players are getting better every day; our seniors are guiding them."

Each team was in action Tuesday in county tourney openers with Roncalli at Southport and Franklin Central at Perry Meridian.

The Franklin Central student section had plenty to celebrate while sporting a beach party theme in the Southport Fieldhouse.

Southport cheerleaders Bianca Foronda and Sidney King pump up the student section as the Cardinals made a comeback in the fourth quarter that fell short.

WOODMEN 49, HORNETS 37

Greenwood bounced back just a few days after dropping an emotional rivalry loss by four points Jan. 3 to visiting Center Grove.

Led by seniors, 6-5 Gavin Dowling (13 points) and 6-1 Nick Duffey (11 points), the Woodmen never trailed after taking a 17-16 lead in the second quarter.

Greenwood pressured the Hornets with a fullcourt press and mixing its man-to-man and zone defenses. The Woodmen out-rebounded Beech Grove, playing without leading scorer and rebounder 6-7 Jujuan Johnson, 31-21. Junior Jaydn Curry led with 10 points.

"They (Beech Grove) played hard, but we got after it and took away some things they wanted to do," Greenwood coach Joe Bradburn said. "I'm proud of our guys for how they came back after a hard loss and how hard we played."

Bradburn credited Dowling for his versatility inside and out that helped the guard play, Ian Raker for hitting some timely 3-point shots, and 6-4 Rasheed Elemikan for some key rebounds.

With seven seniors, Greenwood is 7-2 after edging host Whiteland, 52-50, Saturday. The Woodmen opened Tuesday against Edinburgh in the Johnson County tourney.

Under coach Mike Renfro, Beech Grove recovered Saturday with a 51-46 overtime win at Monrovia.

BG junior Gavin Mitchell, recovered from a broken collar bone suffered during the football season, scored two points and snared two rebounds against the Woodmen. The Hornets also saw the return of burly 6-7 Josh Fryar, who missed two games while playing on the offensive line in the U.S. Army All-American Bowl in San Antonio.

"It felt good out there, but I was anxious to play," Mitchell said. "The outcome wasn't what we wanted, but we will bounce back as a team. We just have to keep working hard."

The Hornets have firepower with Johnson (17.8 points), senior Josh Copenhaver (10.9), Curry (8.3), and senior Isaac Stennett (6.9).

The Hornets traveled Tuesday to Decatur Central for a rematch in a county tourney opener.

Notes: Greenwood Christian junior Izzy Reed was named the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association District 3 girls basketball player of week nine after her 27 points and 23 rebounds against Park Tudor … undefeated 1A No. 1 GCA boys' team dominated Shortridge 83-64, Saturday with a 30-point second quarter as Champ McCorkle led with 25 points with all starters in double figures … semifinals and finals for the Marion County tourney at Southport Fieldhouse and Johnson County tourney at Franklin are Friday at 6 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. and Saturday at 7 p.m.

Beech Grove senior lineman Josh Fryar became the first player in the school's football program to play in the US Army All-American Bowl in San Antonio, Texas on Jan. 4 in the nationally televised game on NBC. Fryar, right, is with BGHS athletic director Garrett Daniel at the game. Fryar was only one of two players from Indiana but was among nine Ohio State University signees to play. They were in San Antonio for six days. They visited a children's hospital and met with numerous military veterans and officers. Fryar said he was humbled to meet so many veterans who had served our country. Fryar was back at BGHS on Jan. 6 and rejoined the Hornets basketball team that faced Greenwood on Jan. 7.
