(SOUTHSIDER VOICE PHOTO BY AL STILLEY) The Suds, a once-popular Greenwood drive-in, reopens Saturday at noon with a new wave of nostalgia and as a destination place in Market Plaza in the heart of Greenwood.

Thought for the Day: "Nature has given us all the pieces required to achieve exceptional wellness and health, but has left it to us to put these pieces together."

- Diane McLaren (c) 2023 King Features Synd., Inc. Teens could show off their lowered Chevys and Fords at the Dog 'n Suds in the valley, The Kitchen at the corner of Main Street and Highway 31, and Jerry's Restaurant between Madison Avenue and the highway.

"The times were different," contended retired Greenwood city parks director Evan Springer, who cruised in his '58 Ford.

Whiteland High School student Bob Glidden, who would become a multiple Pro Stock NHRA champion and Hall of Fame member, cruised in his '62 Ford.

Most of the cars had nicknames, "The Moonshiner," "Cotton Candy," and "Ruptured Duck."

Yes, it was a different era, but the nostalgia is coming back full force with the reopening of The Suds at noon, Saturday, April 22.

Postponed for a week, the reopening Saturday opens the way for new memories for new generations.

The Dog 'n Suds then was a destination then and reopens as a destination now as The Suds with weekday hours, lunch specials, its trademark coney dogs, and ability for patrons to order online. Hours are noon to 9 p.m. Wednesdays through Fridays and Sundays, and Saturdays noon to 10 p.m.

Dog 'n Suds was renamed The Suds in 1983 and has seen several owners, including its current owner John Wagner, whose daughter Susan is operations manager. The Suds has gone through temporary closures but is primed for a new era.

Popular tenderloins, coney dogs, pizzas, and root beer remain on the menu, plus new items.

Food still can be ordered from your car, but also ordered online.

Special car shows will continue in Market Square to peak the nostalgia and make the combination of The Suds and cars as a destination.

More information is on The Suds in Greenwood page on Facebook.

GCA HOME GAME AT ISP

Greenwood Christian Academy players gather around head coach Doug Hagist before home game at the Indianapolis Sports Park on the Southside. GCA has no home field due to city widening of Worthsville Road in Greenwood that eliminated baseball and soccer fields at GCA's south campus. GCA also holds most of its practices at ISP.

Two Southside pitchers – Roncalli's Keagan Rothrock and Beech Grove's Malone "Mo" Moore - claimed big victories from the pitcher's circle last week Rothrock, a University of Florida signee, locked into a duel Thursday against Tri-West junior Audrey Lowery, an Oklahoma University commit. Rothrock, the 2022 Gatorade Player of the Year, won the duel among the state's top pitchers.

Class 4A No. 1 Roncalli defeated Class 3A No. 1 Tri-West, 3-0 Thursday on the Royals' home field.

This was a determined battle between the two pitchers who have been training together for about nine years but this was the first time they collided in an IHSAA softball game.

Roncalli's Keagan Rothrock, a Florida signee, struck out 11 batters and gave up only three hits in game of dueling pitchers against visiting Tri-West of Hendricks County. Roncalli won 3-0.

The Roncalli pitcher struck out 11 Bruins and gave up harmless singles in the first, fourth, and seventh innings. She is 4-0 with a 0.44 ERA with 65 strikeouts in six starts.

Lowry, a left-handed pitcher, struck out nine Royals, gave up four hits and one earned run (two of Roncalli's runs in the first were unearned due to fielding miscues). Lowry is 4-2 with a 1.24 ERA and 55 strikeouts in six starts.

"I feel okay," the Roncalli senior said afterward. "I was able to attack."

The host Royals (6-1-1) set the tone early when leadoff hitter Lyla Blackwell, a Virginia Tech signee, drew a walk, went to second on a wild pitch, then to third on a shortstop's error on teammate Abby Hofmann's grounder.

She then ran home on a miscue of Lauren Marsicek's grounder. Knowing runs would be valuable in this match-up, Blackwell leaped high in the air before landing on home plate. On the same night, Beech Grove's rising softball team upended Cathedral, 6-0 as senior hurler Moore gave up only one hit, a triple in the third inning, and struck out 10.

Moore is joining the state's top pitchers with an impressive 6-0 record with a 0.40 ERA and 66 strikeouts. She also helped at the plate with a two-run homer in the first inning.

The Hornets had a 5-0 lead after three innings. Lillianna Jansen, Aubree Bailey, Mylee Boling, and Holly Garrett each had one hit. Boling drove in a run, and Carmen Edmaiston scored on a sacrifice fly.

Beech Grove ran its record to 9-0 Thursday by defeating Warren Central, 13-2. The Hornets pushed across nine runs in the second inning. Robinson and Jansen each had three hits.

Moore threw the first two innings and did not give up a hit; Edmaiston recorded the last nine outs

Beech Grove has outscored its first nine opponents, 107-14.

OUR FRIEND, GEORGE

My family was going through some very interesting changes dur-ing my years in junior high and high school. My father had sold his daily pick-up milk route. This route entailed him picking up milk from farms in the Acton / New Palestine area and delivering it to a milk processing plant in Indianapolis to be bottled. He was going to open a new Sunoco Service Station in the Edgewood area

During the time the business was being constructed, dad was in training at a company-operated service station on West Washington Street. It was a 24-hour station and in training he was required to work various shifts. I remember going to work with him a couple of times on the overnight shift.

During our school's construction process and when school was in session, I would get off the school bus at Epler and Madison Avenue in the afternoon and walk home with several classmates. If was exciting to watch the progress of our new family business.

During dad's time in training on West Washington Street, he met and became friends with George Frye. He was also in training to open a new Sunoco Service Station. George was a native of Loogootee, Indiana and was living in Brownsburg. His new station was located in Brownsburg.

Both of the stations opened at about the same time. We stayed in contact with George and several other Sunoco stations in the area. Bill Singer had one of the very first Sunoco stations in the city. White's Sunoco was also on Madison Avenue near the famous Teepee restaurant.

Several years later, George gave up his business and came down and worked with us. He was a great guy and we worked so well together. It's amazing to me the goofy things that we remember about someone. George had two types of work uniforms: one for warm weather and one for the cold days. There were two days a year that George made a big deal about changing from cool uniforms to warm ones and about six months later back to the cool ones. He had specific days marked on his calendar and it was a big deal. Once the change was made, he wore that type of uniform regardless of the weather. He would have still been wearing the warmer things had he been around and working last week

I had lunch with some friends last week and noticed that I was still wearing warmer clothing unlike most of the other folks in the restaurant. I quickly thought of George.

When we started building our small fleet of school buses in Perry Township, George obtained his license and became a school bus driver. He and his wife moved from Brownsburg to a home just off of Edgewood Avenue

A few years later, we relocated our business to a larger facility in downtown Southport. George stayed with us. I learned so much from him. The building that we operated from in Southport is now known as Long's Bakery.

Several years later, we sold our school bus fleet to Perry Township Schools and both George and my father went to work for the township and took care of the buses. They both retained those positions until they retired.

George and his wife moved back to Loogootee after they retired. I really miss both my father and George. I often remember something they taught me or helped me with, and those memories are so special.

A group of current and former township school bus drivers have a monthly breakfast. We really enjoy remembering our former friends and co-workers.

Shonk is a 1960 graduate of Southport High School, a '63 grad of Indiana Central College (now the University of Indianapolis) and a retired bus driver from Beech Grove Schools. He can be reached through email at fdshonk@aol.com.

By B. Scott Mohr A retrospective glance at the Southside From The Spotlight and The Southsider Voice archives

60 Years Ago This Week - 1963

The Singer Sewing Machine Co., a newcomer in the typewriter business, lowered the price of its most expensive typewriter to $99.95. That model and others could be seen at the company's store in Southern Plaza, 4200 S. U.S. 31.

Martin McDermott, the fourth generation in his family to own the M. Clune Co. furniture store, which was founded in 1854, opened Martin's Fine Furniture at 5410 S. Meridian St.

The route of the 500 Festival Parade would include Monument Circle for the first time in five years. The Circle had been off limits because its concrete pedestrian traffic islands - which were recently removed — hampered the movement of floats.

50 Years Ago This Week — 1973

"Music With the Animals," a children's Easter concert, was held at the Indianapolis Zoo, 3120 E. 30th St.

The annual Easter lily show at the Garfield Park Conservatory, 2450 Shelby St., featured more than 600 flowers.

A pharmacy opened in the $13 million addition at St. Francis Hospital in Beech Grove.

The Masque and Wig Theatrical Group held auditions for Neil Simon's "Last of the Red Hot Lovers" at Bluff Cultural and Recreational Center, 555 W. Hanna Ave.

40 Years Ago This Week - 1983

Falcons Against Drunk Driving was launched by a group of Perry Meridian High School students to emphasize the dangers of drinking and driving. * * *

Sassy Brass, a 13-piece big band that cranked out lively tunes, performed at Barringer's, 2535 S. Meridian St., where the cover charge was $1.

The Leisure, a new lounge located in the Zayre Shopping Center, 3825 S. U.S 31, featured shrimp cocktails for 99 cents, twofor-one drinks and daily dinner specials.

30 Years Ago This Week — 1993 Comfort Inn South desk manager Kimberly Miller was named the hotel's Employee of the Year.

King and queen candidates for Roncalli's prom were (in no particular order) Brent Carver, Emily Briggeman, Ann Williams, Devon Trackwell, Jennifer Kappes, Joe Spitznagel, Jim Cissell, Michelle Sauer, David Lauck, Marie Roy, Mark Mennel and Michelle Eckhart.

PAID OBITUARY

with PSI, Bob left to go work for an international engineering company (CT Main) for several years. In that job he lived in diverse places like Saudi Arabia, Alaska, and Nepal. Upon his return to the US, he went back to PSI for a few more years, and then retired in 2002.

He was a very easy-going, likable guy who was loved by all. One of his most outstanding characteristics was his quick wit. Even when dementia robbed him of his memories the last several years, his sense of humor remained fully intact until almost the end. He loved to "tinker" in the garage and yard, usually with a pipe in his mouth (oftentimes unlit). He loved taking flying lessons, and one of his proudest moments was when he soloed. He was an amazing father to his 3 sons. He read them to sleep every night when they were little, played pitch and catch in the backyard, took them on many camping and canoeing trips, attended all their academic and athletic events, and much more

Bob is survived by his wife, Carole Sue Stockton, and 3 sons by a previous marriage, Ken (Cally) Stockton of Fort Collins CO, Steve (Chari) Stockton of Charleston WV, and Glenn (Jeannette) Stockton of Shutesbury MA, as well as 5 grandchildren (Ruth, Sam, Jane Ănne, Lucy, and Griffin). We all cherish our memories of him and are very grateful he was a part of our lives.

A celebration of his life will be held at 11:45 a.m., Thursday, April 20, at Greenwood Presbyterian Church, 102 West Main St. Greenwood, IN 46142. Friends may visit from 11 a.m. until the service time. A graveside service will be conducted at 2 p.m. at Garland Brook Cemetery in Columbus, IN with military honors.

MARY EMMA STOREY, 93, children, Peggy Obergfell, Mark (Nancy), Dan (deceased) (Wanda), Matt (Janice) and Joe Storey (Claudia); brothers, Patrick (deceased), Jason Settles;18 grandchildren, 43 great-grandchildren, 6 greatgreat-grandchildren.

Visitation May 12, from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. with Mass at 12 p.m. at Holy Name Catholic Church. Little & Sons handled arrangements.

BASEBALL SHOWCASE Roncalli, Southport and county champ Center Grove off to fast starts; GCA and Lutheran have plenty of speed with new season under way

By AI Stilley, Editor and Steve Page, Correspondent

Improved teams and three new coaches make up the Southside baseball landscape this season.

Some teams have seen modest success already as reigning sectional champs 3A Beech Grove and 1A Lutheran and defending Mid-State champion Decatur Central defend their titles.

MaxPreps No. 2 team in the state, Center Grove is the 2023 Johnson County champs after edging Whiteland, 1-0 and Franklin, 8-7. The Trojans are a perfect 10-0 after defeating Greenwood Friday in a CG home game at Greenwood. The game was moved from CGHS because the school was closed due to a phoned-in bomb threat.

In the Battle of Perry Township, Southport defeated Perry Merid-ian, 8-4 Friday night on junior relief pitcher Zachary Looper's triple that emptied the bases in the sixth for the Cardinals fourth straight win.

Beech Grove (3-3) snapped a three-game losing skid Saturday against visiting Purdue Polytech on Jackie Robinson Day as both teams wore commemorative jerseys that also honored the Negro League Indianapolis Clowns.

Ğreenwood Christian Academy is 5-3-1 without an on-campus baseball field; most home games and practices are at Indianapolis Sports Park.

Roncalli opened with five straight wins but fell at Carmel Friday and recovered to defeat host Franklin Central Saturday.

New Southside coaches include Patrick Antone at Řoncalli, Joshua Meanev at Lutheran and Fabion Ricks at Christel House Manual

Here's the outlook for Southside teams with last year's won-lost record and player stats:

(SOUTHSIDER VOICE PHOTOS BY AL STILLEY) Beech Grove players and coaches wore identical uniforms with No. 42 in honor of famed Jackie Robinson at the Hornets' annual Jackie Robinson Day game Saturday morning. The uniforms also bore the team name Clowns in honor of the Negro League India-napolis Clowns. The Hornets defeated Purdue Polytech.

BEECH GROVE (3A, 13-14) – Brotherhood. That's the one word that coach Jacob Wickliff uses to describe this season's Hornets

"We have a group of seniors who have been playing together for a very long time," Wickliff said. "The young kids in the program have put their arms around them. They're prepared for something special CENTER GROVE (4A, 25-3-1) - The Trojans are loaded with talent, depth and determination to atone for last year's sectional loss to Mooresville. Coach Keith Hatfield's squad has solid pitching, hitting, speed, defense, and experience.

A trio of NCAA Division 1 recruits leads the pitching staff: Ben Murphy (Indiana) 5-2, 3.10 ERA, 48 strikeouts; Caden Cornett (Purdue-Fort Wayne) 4-0, 1.49 ERA; and Jacob Murphy, 4-0, all right-handers. Senior Christian Brown and junior Connor Vander-Luitgaren add depth on the mound.

The Trojans are loaded at the plate with: shortstop Drew Culbertson (Missouri) .292, 32 runs scored; outfielder Garrison Barile (Miami, Ohio) .487, 43 RBI, 7 home runs; catcher Grant Sawa (Purdue-Fort Wayne), .281, 16 RBI; junior infielder Noah Coy (Cincinnati), .375, 33 runs scored; outfielder Evan Zapp (Queens), 389 avg, 24 RBI; and junior outfielder AJ Beggs, .414, 5 triples, 4 home runs.

The Trojans have one of the deepest lineups in the state with plenty of power and speed plus defense. And they are determined to go deep into the playoffs.

CHRISTEL HOUSE MANUAL (3A) - Eagles have first home game Thursday against city league foe Washington. Firstyear coach Fabion Ricks leads program that lacks depth and feeder system. Deshon Hollis and Dakota Long are only returning veterans. They are joined by Michael Cox, Zion Hudson, Kameron Prater, Marquan Ford, Nathaniel Lucas, Julius Walker, John Robinson, and Manual Martinez.

DECATUR CENTRAL (4A, 11-11-1) – After reloading in 2022 following the graduation of 10 seniors, the defending Mid-State champions enter the season with optimism.

"We have a good mix of ages and classes," third-year coach Sean Winkelseth said of the seven seniors, two juniors, four sophomores, and three freshmen on the roster.

Key players include: senior pitcher and slugger Kaden Barr (407 batting average, 555 slugging percentage; 1-1, 1.22 ERA); shortstop Brayden Coffey (.279, 18 stolen bases; 3-3, 3.95 ERA); senior catcher Alex Brawley (.980 fielding percentage); and junior third baseman Garret Smith (.250, 12 RBI).

Freshmen Bo Poston, a football quarterback, and classmate Logan Markus are promising newcomers.

Winkelseth bases his team's efforts on three pillars: the name on the front of the jersey, leadership, graduate - and win.

Jaylan Yates, a Decatur Central sophomore, awaits the pickoff throw to first base from pitcher Logan Markus during Tuesday's home game.

FRANKLIN CENTRAL (4A, 6-17) – Flashes are eager to turn things around after seven straight losing seasons and battling Hoosier Crossroads Conference teams. Veteran coach Greg Schoettle faces an uphill battle against HCC foes.

The Flashes face a slow start after graduating most of their pitching staff, leaving behind junior Weston Harvey and a relatively newmound corps that already has experienced injuries. "We're pitching by committee," Schoettle observed. Otherwise, Schoettle added, "We compete hard, that's what I love about this team. It's a tight-knit group. This team doesn't quit and that's all I ask from them. They are fun to coach." The Flashes return with eight seniors, among them are: centerfielder and leadoff hitter Max Thacker; Colin May who moves from the outfield to shortstop and No. 3 hitter, first baseman / third baseman Corbin Napier, a team leader and second-team allconference.

Nevan Tutterow bolsters the pitching and is at short with classmate Nate Schwark at second.

In conference play, the Flashes have yet to face Noblesville, Zionsville, Brownsburg, Fishers, and Hamilton Southeastern. "It's such a grind in this conference, but that just makes us better," Schoettle observed.

GREENWOOD (4A, 7-15-1) - Veteran coach Andy Bass and the Woodmen return with several returnees with goals of scoring more runs and cutting down on so many costly errors made in the field last season.

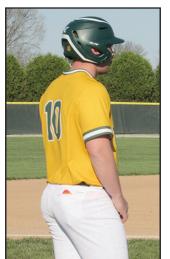

The Woodmen return with a solid nucleus and the promise of an improved diamond campaign. While having only four seniors, Greenwood has a strong junior contingent that gained valuable experience last year. The juniors are third baseman Brendan Bailey (.409), shortstop Landen Smith (.385, 27 hits, 23 RBI), rightfielder Amare Middleton, outfielder Cade Kelly, first baseman Cooper Smith, outfielder Wyatt Flowers, catcher Cole Basey, infielder Spencer Fay, catcher Jackson Simms, and pitchers Micah Vessely (4.34 ERA), Logan Connor, and Oren Fiesel.

Senior Noah Rollins (.280) leads the class at second base, with classmate infielders Sheldon Clark, Payton King and Jarren Sanders Sophomore centerfielder Ethan King and Mavrick Pauley add depth.

The Woodmen have speed and savvy for being a young team that's hungry for more wins.

Greenwood's Sheldon Clark (10) checks out the action while protecting bullpen.

Logan Connor (5) warms up in front of head coach Andy Bass after coming in as a relief pitcher in home game against Martinsville.

Greenwood's Amare Middleton (25) and Cooper Smith (30) take water break during home game.

The Hornets won the sectional last year and captured their first regional game before bowing out of the playoffs.

Eleven Hornets are back, including a handful from the 2022 3A state basketball championship team.

Seniors Logan Muffler (.346, 27 hits; 3.59 ERA) and Cam Brown (2.59 ERA), who moves to first base when not pitching, headline the long list.

Familiar Hornets in the infield are sophomore first baseman Griffin Matracia, seniors second baseman Chase Alford (.312, 24 hits), third baseman Jordan Ramsey, and shortstop Skylar Thacker (.330, 28 hits). Leftfielder Jeremiah Alexander also returns. Catcher Logan Stephens is back behind the plate.

Brown is joined on the pitching staff with returnees Muffler, Alford, Ramsey, Thacker, Chris Hammer, and Rylan Horen.

Newcomers, up from JV, include sophomore Brayden Cruse and juniors Tucker McDonald and Andrew Buerosse

The Hornets have speed with 235 stolen bases in the last two seasons and will be sprinting to set the single-season record for steals the third straight season

"When we get on base, we have to steal bases," Wickliff said. "We don't have the extra-base hitters, so we have to steal. Defense is part of our identity because our pitchers aren't overpowering. So we have to make plays.

Consider the Hornets as a "hidden gem" as they look forward to one of the program's best seasons.

GREENWOOD CHRISTIAN ACADEMY (1A, 13-9) – The Cougars entered the season without a baseball field on campus.

They were able to use the field at the original south campus on the southeast corner of Worthsville Road until it was lost due to widening. GCA's home games are at Indy Sports Park.

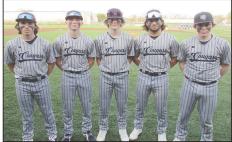

"We also use the park for our practices when it's available,' veteran coach Doug Hagist said. "At times, we've even used a parking lot to get in some practice

No matter where the Cougars practice or play, this is an interesting team with eight returning starters from last year's winning team. The key returnees are: seniors, first baseman Eli Ellis (.479), shortstop pitcher Jake Potter back from a seasonending injury last vear. leading pitcher and home run hitter Trey Harney III (10 home runs); juniors, catcher / third baseman Colton Flint, catcher Charlie Overton (50 runs), second baseman Wyatt Schlageter, and leftfielder Mason Wright, Sophomore pitcher/third baseman Caden Camden returns after starting every game last season.

Newcomers expected to make an instant impact are junior outfielder/pitcher Cole Mulhauser and sophomore pitcher Preston VanTil.

GCA again plays a demanding schedule that includes 4A Decatur Central, Greenwood, and Pike plus Brebeuf, Chatard, Scecina and Heritage Christian.

"We were a very good hitting team last year and will look to build on that," coach Hagist said. "With a year's worth of experience, we will be more confident in the field and on the mound. We play a very tough schedule in hopes that it will prepare us for the (IHSAA) tournament.'

The Cougars will be on the prowl with this group.

LUTHERAN (1A, 22-9) – Sectional champ Saints reached regional championship game at Morristown before bowing out of playoffs. They return with new coach Joshua Meaney and potential for a deeper tourney run. "I would be shocked if we're not

"I would be shocked if we're not close to that (22 wins)," first-year coach Meaney said. "We are a better team, maturity-wise and experience. Our juniors have really good maturity and are helping our seniors lead. Most of our guys have played varsity for at least two years."

Seniors and team captains, shortstop Josiah King (.537, 26 runs, 29 hits) and centerfielder Micah Mackay (.457, 48 runs, 43 hits, 31 RBI, 27 stolen bases) have most of the clout at the plate.

Junior catcher Gehrig Whitlock (.295, 21 RBI, 3 home runs) has thrown more than 50 percent of runners out who have tried to steal against him. Sophomore Landyn Parker holds down second base and has speed and experience. Junior outfielder Jackson Brandenburg (.308, 23 hits, 23 runs) adds punch.

Pitching is solid with junior Ryan Jeffers (4-1, 1.38 ERA) and sophomores Ryan Redding (3-0), Owen Lecher (2-0, 0.84 ERA), and Nate Hughes, who missed most of last season due to illness

The team's main identity is their ability to steal bases. The Saints attended a clinic on strength and fitness at Purdue University and returned with more speed and agility techniques.

"Honestly, we're faster than last year's team," Meaney said. "Overall, we want to be clean with the glove (defense), throw strikes, keep opponents of the bases, and be solid all the way through the lineup at the plate."

And the roster is loaded with freshmen who are eager for varsity experience.

Lutheran will rely early in the season upon veteran Saints, from left, seniors, catcher Gehrig Whitlock, centerfielder Micah Mackay, and infielder Josiah King, and juniors, middle infielder Ryan Jeffers and outfielder Jackson Brandenburg.

PERRY MERIDIAN (4A, 14-16) – Coach Jake Banwart firmly believes the Falcons baseball program is making progress. "We have just had some pieces in the past," Banwart said.

"Now, they're all coming together for us." PMHS is coming off a 14-win season that featured an 8-6 record in rugged Mid-State Conference competition.

"We're excited to be in that (conference competition. "We're excited to be in that (conference) mix," Banwart added. Seniors, ace pitcher Jake Phillips (6-2, 2.02 ERA, 55 strikeouts in 59 innings) and all-conference infielder Gavin McBeath (.253 batting average, .387 on-base percentage, 15 RBI, 4 home runs), batting average, .387 on-base percentage, 15 RBI, 4 home runs), are the leading players. Phillips also hit .348 with 19 RBI. Infielder / pitcher Michael Carter (.377, 19 runs, 16 stolen bases) adds speed and a big bat to the lineup.

And shortstop Specer Gayheart returns after recovering from an injury that limited him to only nine games. He hit an impressive .464 with 10 RBI, a .519 slugging percentage, and a fielding percentage of .939 in a limited season.

Seniors Lane and Brock Allison and sophomore catcher / pitcher Aiden Kerr can hit; senior Kolton Wright and sophomore Jackson Lamkin have shown speed on the bases.

"Our focus will solely be on ourselves," Banwart contends. "We're dealing with what we can control. We want to be in control all the way and be happy (because) we're playing baseball."

RONCALLI (4A, 11-11) – Royals have gathered with new coach Patrick Antone, who was hired in early September. Antone has worked feverishly to develop a team that is passionate about baseball, especially how to perform at each position depending upon the situation. He comes to Roncalli after successful coaching stints at Columbus North, a state championship at Boone Grove, Roncalli's six seniors provide experience for the Royals. The seniors are, from left, outfielder / catcher Michael Schafer, middle infielder Kyle Walker, pitcher Shaun Byrne, shortstop / catcher / pitcher Andrew Baugh, centerfielder Hayden Scott, and pitcher / first baseman Tanner Hudspeth.

To say the least, Antone is a student of the game. "The game is really hard, not only skillwise but mentally as well" Antone philosophized. "You have to be able to understand the objective at any moment, the situation, and what type player you are. You have to be mentally tough to handle to ups and downs, the struggles, the disappointments. Long range, we want them to be a better person because they went through the baseball program." After a rare .500 season, the Royals are poised for another win-

SOUTHPORT (4A, 8-17) – Coach Brendan Dudas has a handful of key returnees and several promising young players who gained valuable experience last season by design.

"As a first-year coach last season, I made it my goal to get many of our freshmen and sophomores into the lineup early and often," Dudas said. "While they went through growing pains last year, I think this will pay dividends as these players reach their junior and senior seasons.

Dudas observed, "Our team is very young, but our youth has experience."

The Cardinals graduated two solid pitchers Zach Shepherd and Max Shelburn.

Senior catcher/first baseman Drew Youmans (IU-Kokomo signee) leads the returnees with a .277 batting average with eight doubles and 15 RBI.

Seasoned sophomores who are now juniors include pitcher / outfielder Bryce Calvert (.286, 11 RBI; 3.21 ERA), and infielder Calvin Miller (four doubles, three triples). Sophomore pitcher Nick Godsey led the team with a 3.06 ERA in 16 innings last season as a freshman. Returning junior Ramon Martinez and Mikey Takacs will help on the mound and at the plate.

Senior Zach Chambers, the 2022 "best teammate," returns after missing last season due to injury. Junior catcher / infielder Nolan Roll and sophomore Peyton Phoenix will see more playing time Starting pitcher Ramon Martinez strides into a delivery during Saturday's 7-3 victory over Pike at Holder Field.

WHITELAND (4A, 11-16) – Tornado-stricken Whiteland continues to recover from the E3 tornado that struck just east of the high school on March 31. The disaster meant an extended spring break for students, including the Warriors baseball team that helped residents clean up debris.

The Warriors, just like the community, are trying to get back to some normalcy. "We ended up

"We ended up having an extended spring break, by a week, with school not open," veteran coach Scott Sherry said. "We're trying to get back to school, practices, and games. So it was a tough week."

Whiteland returns to the diamond with five seniors: Peyton Emberton, Ethan Shipp, Brayden Roy, Kevin Denham and Donavin Woodall.

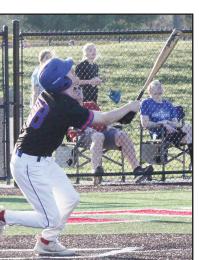

Donavin Woodall. "These seniors have been in the program for four years; they're baseball kids," Sherry said. "This is a good group. They support each other. And Sherry said. "This is a good group. They support each other. And that makes for good team chemistry when guys get along. They bring energy and leadership qualities and they're all key guys." Sherry provided the following evaluation of some of his key players: Shipp is a senior with good offensive numbers and is good at putting the ball in play, being a sparkplug; Drew Helton is a third-at putting the ball in play, being a sparkplug; Drew Helton is a thirdyear player, one of our top pitchers and hitters; Maalik Perkins is a sophomore centerfielder with lots of speed; and Peyton Dickens has pitched really well and is hitting well, an up-and-coming player. "We'd like to compete every night, be in every ball game,"

Sherry said. "In this conference (Mid-State), that's a hard thing, to be in it day in and day out – that's the challenge. The conference setup is great. If you lose, then you can come back right away with a second conference game. It's good to get the bad taste out of your mouth sometimes."

Whiteland designated hitter Ethan Shipp watches his high popup, which eventually fell into short right-center field for a double in Wednesday's game at Plainfield.

and an assistant at Chesterton, Andrean, and Westfield.

"With two new jobs (teaching and coaching) and getting moved, it's been a hectic school year already, but in a good way, it's been a challenge," Antone said honestly. "These players were used to doing things a certain way; even though it's different, they have responded really well."

The Royals lost six seniors to graduation but return six seniors: pitcher/outfielder Tanner Hudspeth, centerfielder Hayden Scott, pitcher Shaun Byrne, shortstop / catcher /pitcher Andrew Baugh, outfielder / catcher Michael Schafer; and middle infielder Kyle Walker.

this season as fulltime varsity players.

Newcomers include juniors, outfielder Espy Ralston, pitcher Zach Looper, and infielder Jacob Rodriguez; sophomores, pitcher Austin Van Velse and outfielder Max Terrell and freshman pitchers Riley Matlock and Ty Duncan.

To improve hitting, the Cardinals competed against each other in live at-bat sessions that were tracked.

"As a program, we totaled totaled 422 live plate appearances and an average of 26 plate appearances per hitter," Dudas said. "We see that as nearly seven games worth of live reps; I hope that preparation allows them to feel more comfortable in the box.

"At the plate, we're focused on the three B's: barrels, bases, and bunts," Dudas observed.

Overall, the coaching staff also seeks improvement in fielding, preventing the "compounding" error, and pitching.

Dudas summarized, "Our goal as a program this year is to play hard, earn each other's trust, and be a tough opponent for any team that steps on the field with us."

Freshman Austin Van Velse of Southport shows he still has the ball after making a diving catch in shallow right field during Saturday's game at Holder Field.

After taking a strike from catcher Peyton Emberton, Whiteland shortstop Blake Riddle applies the out tag to prevent a Plainfield base runner from stealing second on Wednesday.
