Greenwood Community High School juniors Ava Smith and Lilli Vaziri are proving the adage true that anyone can be the change you want to see in the world. Their suicide prevention awareness campaign has raised over $4,000 to date and led to a community fundraiser set for 7 p.m. Saturday, October 22, at Greenwood High School football stadium.

The event, "Light in the Darkness Suicide Prevention and Mental Health Awareness Walk," will include opening remarks by Greenwood Mayor Mark Myers.

"We want to touch just one person's heart. We have gone through our own mental health struggles, and we want people to know they are not alone," Smith said.

Smith and Vaziri began their campaign in early September. Smith opened an email from Greenwood guidance counselor Tanya Fenner about suicide prevention month, in part, to relieve teenage boredom. Her boredom soon turned to excitement. Smith learned about a walk in Indianapolis sponsored by the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention. She hatched an idea to enter the walk. She shared her idea with her friend, Lilli, and they set out to raise money

Greenwood Public Library opened its doors for a special event, "Come for the Cake, Stay for the Books," that also featured tours of the library with recent interior renovations and improvements. The after-hours event took place Oct. 6. The library staff wanted the community to celebrate the way books bring a community together. Among the new features, especially on the second floor, are 11 private study rooms (more than double the number before renovation), various new meeting rooms, a special room for adult-child, foster care, and therapy. Also, new study booths and tables add to the comfort of patrons with a computer or a book. The library is at 310 S. Meridian St. between a re-envisioned Old City Park and a multi-million dollar mixed-use development.

from family and friends. Smith and Vaziri told their Greenwood strength and conditioning coach Jerrod Watson about the walk, who posted it on his social media account.

Within an hour, their fundraising page reached $200 "Lilli and I were jumping with excitement,"

Smith said. "We wanted to get a lot of people to join in. Our school principal sent an email to parents who started to donate, and we reached $2,000 within eight hours. We were amazed so many people were supporting us.'

Smith said an adrenaline rush spurred she and Vaziri to propose their next idea a community mental health awareness walk. Greenwood High School Principal Michael Gasaway was all for it, and they began to organize the event. Smith and Vaziri chose to hold the walk toward dusk as a symbolic way to depict coming through struggles. Glow sticks and lanterns will help drive home the message, too.

Greenwood businesses, along with the Greenwood Police Department, have stepped up to support the walk by posting informative fliers and providing in-kind donations.

The girls even have a QR code and a link available to accept donations from those who can't attend the event. Readers can donate by following this link https://supporting.afsp.org/ index.cfm?fuseaction=donorDrive.participant&pa rticipantID=2667224

The donation page will remain live through December. The girls and their guidance counselor also will continue their awareness efforts by forming a mental health club at the school and having teachers volunteer to do occasional check ins with students to see if they are doing okay.

"This is about people caring for other people," Smith said. "We are going through this life together, and we need to work together to address this crisis."

Review: Beef & Boards presents The Addams Family musical comedy

Just in time for Halloween, the creepy, and kooky, mysteri-ous, and spooky, the altogether ooky, Tony Award-nominated macabre musical comedy The Addams Family will be haunting Beef & Boards audiences through November 20.

While there are very few things that can frighten the eerie Addams clan, the patriarch of the family, Gomez Addams finds himself facing a nightmare when his daughter Wednesday tells him she has fallen in love with a "normal" boy from a respectable family whom Gomez has never met. To make matters even worse, Wednesday informs Gomez that she and the boy are engaged to be married then pleads with him to not tell her mother, Morticia; something that Gomez has never done in ȟis life keep a secret from his wife.

Everything changes for the famously frightening family when circumstances force them to host a dinner party for the "normal" boyfriend, Lucas and his parents Mal, and Alice Beineke.

Based on the cartoon characters created by Charles Addams in 1938 which inspired the 1964-1966 television series of the same name. Broadway then embraced the weird family in this musical comedy that opened in April 2010. The casting for this play faith-fully reproduces the appearance, the demeanor, and the mood of the characters we watched and loved on TV and Broadway. While the entire cast gave the audience a marvelous experience with note-worthy, impressive perfor-mances, three character portrayals are worthy of extra mention First, a Southsider and graduate of our own Perry Meridian High School, Shelbi Berry, in the role of Wednesday Addams, captures the hearts of the audience with her outstanding, and powerful vocals and emotional performance. Next, Jeff Stockberger, as the Addams Family butler, Lurch, stole several scenes in his usual inimitable style, leaving the audience with an impression which is a topic of conversation among patrons as they leave the theater. And, last but certainly not least, Sara Hund takes the supporting role of Alice Beineke, and commands the stage when her moments come, magnifying her time in the spotlight in ways only Ms. Hund can do. All in all, this play provides a delightful evening of entertainment, not to mention a delicious pre-show buffet dinner prepared by new Executive Chef Larry Stoops. The Addams Family is on stage for 53 performances through

Nov. 20 in the intimate space of Beef & Boards Dinner Theatre. Tickets range from $51 to $76 which includes Chef Larry Stoops dinner buffet and select beverages and desserts

I once owned and operated a small industrial supply business. This was prior to working as a school bus driver at Beech Grove City Schools and writing this column in The Southsider Voice. My company was Cardinal Industrial Supplies. During several of those years, I was also a member of a business club. It is known as, Indianapolis Business Boosters. I was even the president of the organization. This was in the mid to late 1990's. On occasion, I will reconnect with members at a ball game or a restaurant. A couple of times, I have been invited to drop into a weekly meeting just to say hello.

The organization meets weekly at MCL cafeteria on US 31. They meet at 8 a.m. MCL isn't open for breakfast but for many years they have hosted the club. They provide a nice meeting room and coffee for the group.

I started thinking about dropping in for a visit to one of their meetings. One day an idea started forming in my mind. I thought about it for a few weeks and decided to see if it was even possible

I contacted the manager of the MCL and laid out my plan. She listened carefully and asked a couple of questions. She then started laughing and agreed that was going to be fun. She said she was very sorry that she wouldn't be able to be at the business that morning.

We agreed on a date and she gave me a couple of names of employees that would be on duty that morning. She explained they could help me with anything I needed.

On that special morning, I arrived early and sure enough, I was issued an apron, a broom and a dustpan with a long handle. About 15 minutes after the meeting was called to order, I walked down the hallway toward the meeting room clanking the dustpan onto the floor. It was loud.

down watching what I was doing with that broom and dustpan. I heard a couple of club members say,"I know him." I kept moving closer to the meeting tables. All of a sudden, my good friend, Mike Heimel, pictured right, turned around and saw me. We laughed and very quickly everyone knew I was just messing with them.

We stayed for the meeting and I got to say hello to several friends. It was great to reconnect with them. I might need to visit again around Halloween. Shonk is a 1960 graduate

FOOTBALL: WEEK NINE Cathedral comeback stuns Trojans

By Steve Page Correspondent

Eric Moore was asked if he could remember any team scoring 27 unanswered points against his Center Grove football team.

"Never!" the Trojans' coach exclaimed.

It was a never-before kind of game for Center Grove.

How much so? These Trojan seniors had never lost to another team from Indiana, though they had fallen by close margins to tough teams from Kentucky. But on Friday, they fell 40-29 to Cathedral's dramatic comeback.

In this annual rivalry game, the Trojans, ranked second in Class 6A, hosted Cathedral, one slot behind in the rankings.

And for three quarters, the Trojans were looking pretty healthy. After giving up 13 points in the first frame, their defense blanked the Irish over the second and third quarters. And the offense made enough plays to score 29 points, overcoming repeated quarterback sacks by Cathedral.

It appeared to be more of the same to start the fourth period. After defensive back Michael Soderdahl intercepted a Cathedral pass at midfield, the Trojans, aided by a pass interference penalty, drove to a first-and-goal at the Cathedral 2. One play gained one yard, but on second down, the Trojans fumbled and the Irish recovered.

They drove the length of the field to score a touchdown, but the Trojans foiled an attempted two-point conversion pass, leaving the lead at 29-19.

Pinned deep in their own territory after the kickoff, the Trojans lined up to punt, but the Irish blocked the kick, with Stu Smith scoop ing up the ball at the 3 and scoring another touchdown. The conversion kick was good, trimming the once-comfortable lead to 29-26 with almost half the final frame remaining.

CG drove from the Trojan 31 to the Irish 32 before stalling. The Irish, who had used all of their timeouts during the Center Grove drive, took over at their own 32 with 1:34 to play.

Junior quarterback Danny O'Neil had passed well and scrambled well all night. Facing fourth-and-10, he hooked up with Zach Miller for a 30-yard gain to the Trojan 35. On the next play, he found Davie Ayers behind the defense in the end zone. With 50.8 seconds remaining, the Irish led 33-29, stunning the heretofore noisy home crowd into silence.

With time winding down, and the Trojans calling repeated timeouts, O'Neil hooked up with Brennan Wooten for a 60-yard, pass-run play that resulted in another touchdown and the final margin.

It was the fifth TD toss of the night for O'Neil, who finished 25-43-2 for 410 yards. That was more than the Trojans' total yardage of 378.

"Congrats to them," Moore said after the Trojans slipped to 7-2 while the Irish improved to 7-1. "Last year (a 21-6 win), we made more plays; tonight, they made more plays.'

The Trojans had numbers of their own. Junior quarterback Tyler Cherry finished 14-20-1 for 202 yards and a 27-yard touchdown pass to Noah Coy. Senior Jalen Thomeson had an outstanding night, gaining 94 yards on 19 carries and scoring three touchdowns - two on runs of two and 23 yards and the third on a cross-the-field, 35-yard punt return with 5:55 left in the third quarter that pushed the lead to 29-13. Senior Micah Cole gained 88 yards on 19 rushes.

The Irish ended the game on a fitting note for them, sacking Cherry for the eighth time as the clock wound down to zero.

"They had a couple of really good blitzes – blitzes we had not seen before," Moore said. "There were a lot of plays where we had chances to seal it, and we didn't do it."

And now?

"Everything we do, we can improve on," said Moore, whose team has an open week before beginning defense of Class 6A Sectional 8 at Franklin Central (3-6) on Oct. 28.

"The positive thing about this is we haven't had a bad taste in our mouth for a long time," Moore said. "Now they know what it feels like."

Flanked by his blockers, including Ryder Woolwine (91), Center Grove senior Jalen Thomeson races toward the end zone for a 35-yard punt return for a touchdown in the third quarter Friday night.

Despite giving up eight inches in height, senior defensive back Gage Rees rips the ball away from 6-foot-7 Cathedral receiver Zach Meeks while Center Grove teammate Kyle Williams pursues the interception

Trojans, Royals, Saints out to repeat sectional successes

By Steve Page Correspondent

Starting anew.

After being shocked 40-29 by Cathedral in its regular-season finale, Center Grove is looking forward to the new beginning that is the IHSAA postseason.

"High school kids tend to not understand the negatively and hurt of losing, when you don't' lose," Trojan coach Eric Moore said after his team lost to another team from Indiana for the first time in three seasons.

Looking ahead, the coach said, "The things we do, we can do better."

Center Grove (7-2) is the two-time defending 6Á state champion. The Trojans have won 11 straight Sectional 8 championships. They open Oct. 28 at Franklin Central (3-6). The Flashes have the unfortunate record of having met the Trojans in four of the last five sectionals, with Center Grove handily winning those encounters.

The victor advances to play the winner between Columbus North (4-5) and Jeffersonville (1-7) in the championship game.

Improving Perry Meridian (3-6) begins play in Class 6A Sectional 7 by hosting Arsenal Tech (1-8).

The classes other than 6A begin play Oct. 21.

In Class 5A, Decatur Central (3-6) will try to turn things around when it hosts McCutcheon (3-6) in Sectional 13. The Hawks have had sectional success in the past, going 11-5 over the previous five postseasons. They reached the state finals in 2018.

Roncalli opens defense of Class 4A Sectional 21 when the Royals, 8-1, travel to Shortridge, 4-4. The sectional is loaded, including Brebeuf Jesuit (5-3) and Mooresville (7-2)

Beech Grove (4-5) begins play in Class 4A Sectional 22 with a road game at New Castle (2-7).

Defending Class A state champion Lutheran (9-0), also champion of the Indiana Crossroads Conference, is the defending Sectional 47 champ. The Saints play at home against South Putnam (7-2).

Greenwood (1-8) hosts Martinsville (6-3) and Christel House Manual (3-5) with a road game at Triton Central (7-2) on Friday.

Center Grove quarterback Tyler Cherry lobs a short pass to senior running back Micah Coyle during Friday's game.

Prizes await first 50 costumed kids at Kiwanis Chili Cook-off

The Perry Kiwanis chili cook-off on Halloween weekend will provide prizes for the first 50 children who arrive in costume. The event is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 28 at a new location, Friedens United Church of Christ at 8300 S. Meridian St., 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Proceeds from the cook-off will help support the Hunger Inc. food pantry and Perry Seniors, and a silent auction will assist Riley Hospital for Children

The club will continue to hold the line on prices again this year. Adult meals are $8 and include chili, cornbread, dessert and beverage. Meals for kids aged 8 and under are $4 and include a hot dog, chips, dessert and beverage. All major credit cards will be accepted.

Diners will be given a form to vote for their favorite chili from among the seven teams competing for the coveted first-place trophy. This is the club's sixth annual cook-off fundraiser.

Chefs battling for the top spot include Dale Nordholt of Immanuel United Church of Christ, Ray Adams and Pam Smith of Lou Malnati's, Amie Delgado and Lucy Arbuckle of Tried & True Alehouse (first place winner last time), Elden Hartman of Christ United Methodist Church and Ethan New of Baxter YMCA. Trophies will be awarded to the top three chefs

Diners can bid on several items during the silent auction of articles donated by local businesses. Some of the articles include a Google Home Wi-Fi, Cute Nails gift certificate (one pedicure and one manicure), DeWalt drill with two batteries, Nest doorbell camera, Snap-on Tool set, two Lego gift baskets, Indiana parks gift card, Google Home Wi-Fi router, Selective Seconds item, Lou Malnati's gift card, Citizens woman's watch, Gruen watch, Mashcraft Brewery gift basket, Pacers gift basket, Baxter YMCA item and Lottery ticket gift basket. And more items are being added to the list every day.

"Kiwanis is hoping for a big turnout to support a trio of very good causes," said Co-president Dale Nordholt. "Proceeds from the event will help our Kiwanis club continue its mission to serve the community." He added that members of the Southport Key Club (the Kiwanis high school affiliate) will assist at the event.

Co-president and event organizer Scott Splichal noted the club's appreciation to Friedens United Church of Christ for allowing use of its facility and to Meijer grocery for deserts, Aqua Systems for bottled water, and the Trophy House for trophies. "And we appreciate the ongoing support of the southside community in donating items to be auctioned," he added.

The chill cook-off is one of several events held to raise funds in support of various community organizations, the co-presidents explained, including a golf outing and a concession stand operated at the Baxter YMCA during spring and fall youth athletic league games. In addition to Hunger Inc., Perry Seniors and Riley, the club supports scholarships, Changing Footprints shoe charity and several other organizations.
